

Awards

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

BOARD OF DIRECTORS AWARDS

Presented 17 May at the AISTech 2016 President's Award Breakfast

Distinguished Member and Fellow Award

Awarded to an AIST member who has made outstanding contributions to the iron and steel industry and has contributed to the activities of the association.

Tadeusz Sendzimir Memorial Medal

Presented to a deserving engineer or engineers who have made a major contribution to the steelmaking process.

Steelmaker of the Year Award

Recognizes contributions of a prominent individual to the steel industry.

Howe Memorial Lecture Award

An honorary lecture on a technical subject of particular interest to AIST.

J. Keith Brimacombe Memorial Lecture

An honorary lecture on a technical subject of particular interest to AIST.

William T. Hogan, S.J. Lecture

Presented each year to the keynote speaker at the AISTech President's Award Breakfast.

Hunt-Kelly Outstanding Paper Award (AIME)

Awarded to the best paper published in Iron & Steel Technology, or conference proceedings in the previous year.

John F. Elliott Lectureship Award

An honorary lectureship designed to acquaint students and engineers with the exciting opportunities in chemical process metallurgy.

Benjamin F. Fairless Award (AIME)

Recognizes distinguished achievement in iron and steel production and ferrous metallurgy.

Outstanding Chapter Growth Award

Presented to four AIST Member Chapters each year for the greatest percentage increase in membership and greatest numerical increase in membership during the calendar year.

Nomination Process

Complete the online AIST Board of Directors Award Nomination Form available at AIST.org. Include additional materials as required, specifically letters of endorsement and citation. Nomination deadline is 30 November.

Visit AIST.org for guidelines and detailed descriptions of each Award's history and purpose, qualifications, selection process, and previous recipients.