

Contact: Stacy Varnecky
Office: +1.724.814.3066
Cell: +1.724.513.3597
svarnecky@aist.org

AISTech 2019
6–9 May 2019
Pittsburgh, Pa., USA

Media Advisory

PITTSBURGH TO HOST TOWN HALL FORUM ON THE FUTURE OF THE STEEL INDUSTRY Top International Steel Executives to Convene on 8 May 2019

PITTSBURGH, 21 March 2019 — Several of the steel industry's top executives will participate in a Town Hall Forum in Pittsburgh, Pa., USA, to discuss the direction of the greater steel industry. This event is part of AISTech 2019 — The Iron & Steel Technology Conference and Exposition.

2018 proved to be a remarkable year for the steel industry. Strong demand and favorable policies yielded higher shipments and record profits, and market conditions are supporting a level of investment that hasn't been seen in years. All of this comes as the industry adopts new digital technologies that will revolutionize steelmaking, making it all the more efficient, clean, productive and safe.

During the Town Hall Forum, the executives will share their perspectives on the state of the steel industry and the evolution of high-tech manufacturing. They'll also discuss the ways in which the industry is working to meet the needs of modern society and offer a few insights into what the future holds for steel.

One of the conference's signature events, the AISTech Town Hall Forum is meant to give attendees the opportunity to hear more about the state of the steel industry straight from those who are leading it. Executives scheduled to participate in the forum are:

- Johnny Jacobs, vice president and general manager, Nucor Steel Kankakee Inc.
- Barry Schneider, senior vice president, Flat Roll Steel Group, Steel Dynamics Inc.
- Scott Buckiso, senior vice president – Automotive Solutions, United States Steel Corporation
- Carol Jackson, chairman and chief executive officer, HarbisonWalker International
- Conrad Winkler, president and chief executive officer, EVRAZ North America

To reserve your seat at the AISTech 2019 Town Hall Forum, please complete the online registration form, or contact Stacy Varnecky.

WHO: Leading Steel Industry Executives
WHAT: Town Hall Forum, AISTech 2018 — The Iron & Steel Technology Conference and Exposition
WHERE: Philadelphia, Pa., USA
WHEN: Wednesday, 9 May 2018, 10 a.m.–Noon
CONTACT: Stacy Varnecky (svarnecky@aist.org), +1.724.814.3066

AISTech 2019, organized by the Association for Iron & Steel Technology (AIST), is the largest annual steel conference and exposition in North America. AISTech 2019 will be held 6–9 May at the David L. Lawrence Convention Center in Pittsburgh, Pa., USA.

AIST is a non-profit technical association of 17,500 members from 70 countries, with the mission to advance the technical development, production, processing and application of iron and steel. The organization is recognized as a global leader in networking, education and sustainability programs for advancing iron and steel technology.

###