Maintenance & Reliability for the Next Generation
10–12 September 2019
Embassy Suites Downtown Indianapolis, Ind., USA

About the Program
The AIST Maintenance & Reliability Technology Committee, AIST Lubrication & Hydraulics Technology Committee, and industry leaders have joined together for 2019 Maintenance & Reliability for the Next Generation. This workshop-based training seminar will provide attendees with hands-on instruction, tools, and the best available technologies for mechanical, electrical, lubrication, hydraulics, management system maintenance and reliability solutions. In addition, maintenance and outage planning, system design, and maintenance troubleshooting and techniques will all be covered. Manufacturing reliability is an integral part of sustainability in the metals industry. Improvement in reliability is essential to assuring manufacturing results at the lowest cost. Both operations and maintenance personnel must understand the direction their organizations need to take with respect to improving and managing their equipment maintenance programs.

Who Should Attend
The conference is intended for maintenance, operations and engineering personnel. It is useful for individuals who are in middle management or frontline supervisor positions, as well as maintenance, operational, and reliability personnel responsible for equipment reliability processes, including planners, schedulers, senior tradesmen, maintenance managers, maintenance engineers, plant engineers, project engineers, maintenance superintendents, operators and operations managers. Maintenance technology, equipment and service suppliers should also attend.

Professional Development Hours
This course may qualify for up to 18.5 Professional Development Hour (PDH) credits. Each attendee will receive a certificate listing the quantity of PDH credits earned for the course.
